For help with the upgrade transition, follow the guide.

The Center for Teaching, Learning, and Innovation is striving to help faculty with promoting innovative teaching and learning by providing multiple avenue for Faculty professional development regarding best teaching practices, pedagogical trends, and effective ways to assess student learning. The staff in CTLI offer faculty-centered workshops on various topics based on need, research and faculty requests. If you have a request for a workshop, please contact Amber

Online Instruction Certification Course

This course will provide guidance for faculty who are asked to teach in an online or hybrid environment for the first time. During this course, faculty will have the opportunity to build a course piece by piece with hands-on support.
