Western Wyoming Community College Office of Wellbeing & Accessibility, and the Office of Student Life are proud to offer YOU@WesternWyoming. YOU@WesternWyoming is a free online health resource that students can use to succeed, thrive, and matter at college and beyond. All students and employees have access to this resource through the mywestern portal.

YOU was created to closely match the lifestyle, interests, and needs of a campus community. Based on input from each person, the portal shuffles its cards in order to serve the most relevant content for each unique user. Content includes a variety of topics such as health, mental health, career and vocational information, learning styles, study skills, and assistance with organization, just to name a few. In addition, YOU@WesternWyoming offers online and on-campus resources as well as interesting content that help individuals improve their health, happiness, and purpose.

For more questions, please contact the Office of Wellbeing & Accessibility, Room 1227 (307)382-1652.
